Suburban Bribery Case Fugitive Surrenders to Circuit Attorney Folk in St. Louis----Makes Full Confession, Revealing Names and Crimes of House Combine Members.

WARRANTS FOR EIGHTEEN MEN ISSUED TO-DAY

Warrants were issued today by Circuit Attorney Folk against eighteen former and present members, of the House of Delegates. These are the men:

John Helms Ed E. Murrell Otto Schumacher Chas. A. Gutke John H. Schnettler John A. Sheridan Adolph Madera Chas. F. Kelly Charles J. Denny H. A. Faulkner T. E. Albright Wm. Tamblyn Julius Lehmann Geo. F. Robertson J. J. Hannigan. Louis Decker Edmund Bersch Emile Hartman

All Eighteen are charged with bribery in connection with the Suburban and other bills, and fifteen of the eighteen are charged with perjury because of testimony given by them before the Grand Jury.

These warrants are issued on the confession of J. K. Murrell, who is now in St. Louis in the custody of the Circuit attorney.

Deputies started out with the warrants at 10 o'clock and the arrests began shortly thereafter.

Mr. Folk has stated that the bonds exacted will be very high and that only gilt-edged security will be accepted.

Chief of Police Kiely was notified by Mr. Folk immediately that the warrants were out. The chief said he would close every avenue of escape from the city.

Murrell was brought from Mexico to St. Louis by the Post-Dispatch. The Post-Dispatch's search for was greeted by John Helms and George Robertson, both of whom were just as him and the method by which he was brought back d as under arrest, but did not know him and the method by which he was brought back are set forth fully in other columns of this issue.

It is charged that the men for whom warrants are John K. Murrell, he fell into the trap and out composed a "Combine" in the House of Dele-Oh, It was so easy.

Robertson may have heard the door click gates at the time the Suburban Railway and other boodle bills were passed.

Complete details of the progress of the cases will be found in succeeding editions of the Post-Dispatch today.

Helms went back to the door before the Sheriff Horan was called in and the arrest deputy could reach it, and knocked.
"Let me in," he said. "I think I am wanted as the next witness." But alas for Mr. Helms, as they say in the Bertha M. Clay novels. Little did he know the dark fate which awaited him. Neither, apparently, did Mr. Robertson for whom also alas! once or twice.

"I have surrendered unconditionally to the circuit attorney and have made a full and free confession. I could no longer stand the agony I endured as a fugitive from justice, and the wrong done me by the parties just as guilty as I, who made me their catspaw.

"I am not permitted to give the details of the evidence that I have put the circuit attorney in possession of.

"This will all come out on the trials, and I am willing to go on the stand and tell all I know. I held the key to the box in the Lincoln Trust Co. containing the $75,000 bribe money to go to the House of Delegates upon the passage of the Suburban bill.

"This money was put up as the purchase price for the votes of the combine, that price having been agreed upon.

"I reported the various negotiations to the combine meetings, and was instructed by the combine from time to time what to do.

"When the price was agreed on they designated me as the person to hold the key to the box containing the $75,000, which we were to get when the bill was passed and signed by the mayor.

"The deposit of the money, the amount and the conditions were duly reported by me to the combine meetings.

"I am not permitted to make the operations of the combine on this particular matter public at this time The purpose of the combine was to control legislation and sell legislation for the benefit of the members of the combine.

"Shortly before the Suburban bill the combine sold their votes on the lighting bills for $47,500.

"This money was handled by Kelly, and was paid to the members of the combine at a meeting arranged for that purpose at Julius Lehmann's house. Each member of the combine received $2500,

"I was present and saw that money paid to the various parties. These are only two instances, but there are others, evidence of which is in the possession of the circuit attorney.

"These two instances show, however, what has been going on in the Municipal Assembly.

"We did not look upon what we did as a serious crime, as it had gone on so long without interruption that it was not regarded by those who participated in it as morally wrong. Until the present circuit attorney took office no sincere effort, apparently, was ever made to punish what was being done as a crime.

"I have lived in St. Louis all my life and have many friends here. I have been honest heretofore in all matters, and have done no man a wrong, and thought I would not take a dollar from any person unlawfully, but the practice of the combine in the Assembly taking bribes was so frequent that I went along with the tide and did not realize the enormity of the offense, and my conscience was seared in that regard.

"These boodle investigations have made me see the crime in all its hideousness. No matter what happens to me, I will do all I can to aid the circuit attorney in breaking up the boodle gang that has so long controlled affairs in this city, and to atone as far as I can for my awful mis-

"After my indictment and the commencement of the boodle prosecutions the gang got together and raised money for the purpose of fighting the cases, and to retain the supremacy of the gang. This money was used to employ attorneys, and for other purposes.

"Julius Lehmann, Edmund Bersch and John Helms acted as coachers or drill masters for the witnesses who were to appear before the grandjury, though it seems they were not very successful.

"I communicated with Mr. Folk, through a good friend of mine, who is not a member of the gang, but Mr. Folk refused to make any terms whatever, or give any promise as to what he would do in case I should return. I then determined to make an unconditional surrender.

"I feel better and happier, and my mind is easier now than for months. I propose to give the state all the aid in my power, and I hope that my conduct will be such that in future years I may regain the confidence of my fellow citizens."

To complete the clean sweep for New St. Louis, it is only necessary that Kratz, or some other member of the Council Combine, come to the front. This is not impossible. It is not even improbable. And, venturing a prophecy, even this may not be necessary in order to "land" the Coun-

An interesting fact revealed by Murrell's confession is the discovery that Mr. Folk's deductions, made from his investigation of the boodle situation and brought out in his circumstantial evidence and arguments in the Lehmann and Faulkner trials, have been proved to be entirely correct. The Post-Dispatch man sent to Mexico to find and return J. K. Murrell to St. Louis tells here the story of his search, his discouragements and his success. The letter to which he refers-which he finally wrote to Murrell while both were in the same hotel in the City of Mexico, and which was a summing up of all the arguments that he had made to the fugitive—was given to Circuit Attorney Folk by Murrell as the cause for his (Murrell's) return ppeared last spring, the high colored swaggerish citizens who illustrate the fine possibilities of slang in the House of Delegates began to resume their old air of galety and carelessess of expense. PREPARING FOR THE SEARCH.

Chihuahua is close to the United States but you would never think it. It is as dis tinctively foreign as though half the world separated it from this country. Excepting for a very limited American element, it is thoroughly Mexican in its language, its customs and its buildings. The average Mexican has no knowledge of the English language, and wants none. This is not true of the upper or educated classes, but, or the mission here being recorded, the upper plasses were not likely sources of informacould be communicated with, and whos local knowledge could be made available

Among the Americans in Chihuahua there was danger of selecting the wrong man for confidential communication; for fellowship in breeds sympathy and a spirit of condonation for past misdeeds, even though the majority of allens be there for business purposes, and without apprehension of official visitors from home. A review of the comers and goers at the several hotels failed to discover any-one answering Mr. Murrell's description; and as each inspection failed, the prospect pale. By Aug. 22 the "process of exhaustion" had established these facts: That Mr. Murrell was not at any hotel, unless absolutely confined to his room; that there are few, if any, boarding houses in Chihuahua in which he might be located, as Mexicans of the middle or upper class are not given to taking private boarders; that he was not being treated, if afflicted, by any American doctor in Chihuahua, and he would almost certainly, if a victim of keen analysis and decision. On the long railroad which traces the Mexico backbone for 1206 miles from El Paso to the capital there seemed to be no inte mediate place which would have any at-traction for such an invalid. But the City of Mexico would. It seemed the next logical step—but a distressingly long one. That afternoon a telegram from St. Louis brought the information that Mrs. Murrell had started early in August for some point in Mexico to care for her husband. This made the search easier, since a sick nan who was traveling alone and was then oined by his wife would be much easier to locate than if he continued solus. The next morning the intelligent gentleman above quoted gave it as his opinion that Chiuahua was only two hundred miles beyond the Mexican line. Mr. Murrell was sick and friendess, excepting such friendes as the free use of money might attract, and even these are poor comfort for a sick and homesick man. The call did not very confidential. I think it rather grew out of the yearning for a little touch of friendship which every man feels when he's friendship which every man feels when he's far away from home—especially if he's in to leave home and country and who were that the speaker was speaking from knowledge.

Adams and wife, as there seemed to be no wisdom in further on the couple on out to the public street. Mr. Adams was evidently as sick man and experienced pain in walking. His wife, a little lady in gray, wore such a color spot on her cheeks and such a feverish bright on her eyes as come from anxiety and apprehension. A mere glance was enough to establish the conviction that he was "You remarked that you thought you sould guess what he's wanted for. I'd like to establish the conviction that he was Mr. J. K. Murrell of St. Louis and Mr. Brown of Chihvahua, although Mr. H. Adams of Mexico City.

"Why, it's simple enough. After he had been here awhile you folks in St. Louis a man (Kratz) extradited from Guadalajara. The papers printed a good deal about the matter, and they mentioned that the Guadalajara prisoner had an associate somewhere in Mexico, who had run away from St. Louis at the same time. Of in Mexico City from Chihuanua (he and course the case had considerable interest. the case had considerable interest Mr. Brown following the same course in for us Americans, and we very soon agreed that respect), but there was no mistaking that the other fugitive was right here the long face, the long, straight nose, the that the other fugitive was right here among us. Once we got the idea, it did not take long, by putting this and that together from the papers, to make it an absolutely sure case. Brown fitted into the case perfectly, just as he fits your description. There is not even a chance that we have a monuposed that the writer with mose, the the long face, the long face, the long face, the long, straight nose, the came is called in the long face, later a note found them in their room. It amounced that the writer, who was from "Did he have rheumatism?"

"No, nor show any other signs of sickness. He seemed in perfect health, but was eticent and very correct in his conduct."

"And he's here now?"

"Oh, no! The trail is cold, in fact. He eft here about the end of May. Went fouth. I heard. No, you are over ten weeks one late to see him."

Interior a note found them in their room. It announced that the writer, who was from the mannounced that the writer, who was from the mannounced that the writer, who was from the seen matter of mutual interiors, and of importance, and that his mission was not an unfriendly one. Mr. Murrell seen back word that they would see the visitor in their room. It announced that the writer, who was from the mannounced that the writer have a few months and the writer have a fe owiedgement, in terms, of their identity, was merely taken for granted and the scussion proceeded on that assumption. THE ARGUMENT.

Mr. Murrell was very quiet, watchful and brief of speech. The burden of the talking was on the visitor, who stated that, while he would not pretend that he had come that far out of solicitude for the fugitive's interests, he felt confident that, on a fair hearing, he could show that the best course for Mr. Murrell was coincident with the best interests of the state of Missouri, which the Post-Dispatch was endeavoring to serve. He was not there in deavoring to serve. He was not there in a police capacity, or backed by any color of official authority. Talking together, they were talking as two citizens of Missouri. If the discussion falled of its object, that would be the end, and there would be no officers. would be no attempt at harassment or in-timidation or other form of persecution to ecure a result that friendly argument had failed to secure. He felt certain that Mr. Murrell could, if he were so inclined, furish the state of Missouri with testing of immense value—testimony which the public interests of the city of St. Louis stood in sore need of. He pelleved that if Mr. Murrell would come back to St. Louis and do this, it would atone in a very great measure that part of his public career which had led to his self-banishment, would give him a new start in life, and would restore him to home and friends for which he could find no substitute in the life of an exile. In remaining in Mexico he was ostensibly a free man, safe from the court processes of the state in which his entire life had been spent, but he must

These considerations were presented—not in the above form, of course, but substantially, and the appeal was elaborated.

Mr. Murrell desired to know whether his visitor represented Mr. Folk. He was informed that, unfortunately, the appeal could not be reinforced by anything from Mr. Folk; that Mr. Folk had been consulted, but had declared his inability

It gave us the hot-test roasts of all the papers in town." This was conceded, but it was explained that the present effort was not at all in-consistent with that fact, since the main purpose was to procure evidence that would conserve the public welfare. If in doing this it put the man who furnished the evidence in a better light before the con

ENFORCE THE GARBAGE CONTRACT.

It appears from Dr. Chapman's statement, in Saturday's Pos Dispatch, that the absence of "legal receptacles" is the chief estacle in the way of the enforcement of the garbage contract by the health department. Mr. Francis says, as quoted by "The present contractor does not collect garbage throughou the city every day. But suppose we force him to do so. He night, in return, refuse to collect garbage from any but legal receptacles. Then the majority of the garbage would go un-collected."

The legal receptacle is a portable, water-tight vessel, holding between five and fifteen gallons, with a proper cover. And a great ouseholders have no such receptacle.

But they can get them. Any tinsmith can make such re There is no patent, nor is any special skill required. While it might be a slight hardship for householders and tenints of small means to buy such receptacles, their use would a great improvement over the present boxes, pails and other open and heterogeneous receptacles. # SAVE NEWPORT!

This government must arise in all its glorious might and see that the city of Newport is protected. This action is made imperative by the performance of Admiral Higginson's fleet Friday night, when it entered the mouth of Narragansett Bay, ran past the forts defending Newport harbor and anchored at the torpedo station in front of the city.

Only suppose that this had been in time of actual war. Wha phe would have resulted! The enemies of this country, seeking to capture the stronghold of its wealth and culture, to batter down its temples of beauty and despoil the fairest flower of its civilization, would have descended upon Newport like ravening wolves, sweeping everything before them.

. Cornelius Vanderbilt's private theater and dancing pavilion would have been razed ruthlessly, and her midway scattered to ds. Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish's villa would have gone "Pouf!" like that. The Duchess of Marlhorough-our own handmade duchess-would have been carried away into captivity, and Harry Lehr would have been held for a fabulous ransom. Then again-horrible thought-James J. Van Alen (one "?"), would been swiped from "our midst" by a merciless foe and smuggled boyant the seas, where we could never behold his face -the only true patrician mug in this country.

ing what desolation might ensue in case of war, it is imperative that the government do something to protect its best, and most prized citizens from harm. The people demand tt: our civilization cries out for protection.

J. K. MURRELL'S CONFESSION.

In finding J. K. Murrell, former member of the House of Dele gates and of the House boodle combine who was a fugitive from ustice in Mexico, and inducing him to return to St. Louis and supply the testimony necessary for a complete exposure of the combine and the punishment of its members, the Post-Dispatch feels that it has accomplished a great public service. It has aided Circuit Attorney Folk in his splendid efforts to enforce the laws of the state of Missouri and send the public officers who have plundered and disgraced St. Louis to the penitentiary.

Mr. Folk was hampered in his task of exposing the boodle com bine in the Municipal Assembly and punishing all its members by the lack of evidence on the side of the combine. He had the testimony of the bribers, but no testimony of the bribed. He has done magnificent work with the meager material in his hands. His zeal, energy and courage have not flagged. His success is extraordinary.

But the testimony of a member of the combine was the one thing needful for complete success. That was the key to the inner door-the safety deposit box-in which the secrets of the combine were locked. He was debarred from obtaining this key. As the prosecuting officer, he could offer no rewards for testimony He was confronted by a conspiracy of bribers and boodlers who were willing to pay large sums for secrecy and safety.

This key was placed in Mr. Folk's hands by the Post-Dispatch through the return of J. K. Murrell and the information he supplied. The result of this stroke is the arrest of 18 alleged members of the House of Delegates' boodle combine and the thorough ex-posure of the crimes of the combine, The event is of the greatest importance to St. Louis. It assures publicity for all the villainy of the House of Delegates' boodlers. It offers the basis of a strong hope of the punishment husband can tell what is coming next, be of the whole crew of official thieves.

Mr. Folk deserves the highest commendation and the earnest support and encouragement of the people of St. Louis. The time has arrived to destroy the boodle combine, root and branch. Let all St. Louisans hold up his hands. Give him all the means and support he needs in his struggle to purify the city and punish

The archipelago is now occupied by the Filipines, who have lived there for ages and are adapted to the natura' conditions prevailing. The question is, shall we benevolently lead them along the path of development marked out by nature, or shall we ignore their character, history and condition, set them aside and introduce a servile population to root them out? It is folly to hope to make an economic man out of the Fillpino. His whole nature cries out against it. He is a tropical man, indelent, careless, thriftless, but he is there, and has some rights which we must respect.

What, then, is to be our policy?

Shall we foster the growth of a Filipino civilization, teaching the islander to unfold his own native, racial powers, or shall we plant an alien civilization on the soil, a commercial civilization. bottomed on slavery? In other words, are we to use the archipelago for purposes of

This may have meant either of two things: (1) That the lady would be divorced from her husband or (2) that he was coming back to her. Few people have any understanding of the disruptive power of a severe bolt of lightning. The figures quoted convey little, even when one is told that at the present time the limit of carrying power of an electric plant is electricity at 40,000 volts, cne-tenth of that of a heavy lightning bolt. Perhaps a truer conception is to be gained from the story of an old Long Island resident, who admits being very fond of squirrel hunting and says: "In a piece of clear woods near where I lived several years ago was an enormous white gak tree, four feet through at the stump, and spreading have accomplished."

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

A few months ago a great meeting was held at the Jefferson Club to protest against the action of the House of Delegates in helding up improvement bills and in refusing to take action upon matters that demanded immediate attention.

At that meeting a number of Democratic reformers recommended that guns and ropes be used by the citizens to persuade the members of the House of Delegates in the "combine" to do their duty. A prominent member of the Y. M. C. A. denounced them as "outlaws" and was loudly cheered. He asked the question, "How can such men be elected to public office?" He congratulated the Jefferson Club upon making war upon unfaithful officials.

Mr. James H. Cronin came in for a great deal of personal abuse.

Little did those present imagine that in a few months the Hon. James H. Cronin, so bitterly denounced then by the reformers, would receive the unanimous nominanation of the Democrats for justice of the peace in the district in which the Jefferson Club Hall is located.

Where are the speakers at that meeting now? Where are those who clapped their hands and shouted themselve hoarse when nounced as "outlaws?" Where are all those indignant and outraged citizens now?

The Morals of St. Louis.

The Morals of St. Louis.

Te the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

During our engagement at Delmar Garden this summer we have heard a great deal about the bad condition which the streets and alleys of St. Louis were in, and how and why they should be cleaned. The streets of St. Louis may have needed a cleaning, but morals of St. Louis need a for greater cleaning. The drunkenness and immorality seen in St. Louis need a for greater cleaning. The drunkenness and immorality seen in St. Louis appalling to the respectable man or woman who is obliged to come in contact with it, whether it be at the parks, on the streets or in the street cars. Sin seems to run riot, and but little effort is made to stop it. The Christian men and women of St. Louis should be about "their Master's business" and should rise up enmass against these social evils, and with a strong hand put a stop to the young men and women who are rushing on in their mad career to their own destruction. Any one standing on the streets for a few minutes can see little tots who have scarcely reached their fourth or fifth year, going into the saloon and coming out with buckets of beer and often we have seen these little ones stop to drink from the bucket on their way home. One would almost come to the conclusion that the ministers, the White Cross Society and the W. C. T. U. had "sold out" to the brewerles and the Immoral element, with which the city is flooded.

We hear a great deal about the necessity

If he will take an early morning drive through some of the alleys west of Sarah street between Washington avenue and Page boulevard he will inhale stench from the garbage that has been allowed to lie there and decompose until it is a menace to the health of the surrounding community. I should like to ask his honor through your paper if the garbage inspectors and the health department cannot compel some one in some way to remove some of the garbage and thereby reduce the stench and danger to the health of some of those not able to live in those parts where it is kept clean. I should also ask the ones that know was the garbage contract made for the purpose of removing the garbage from the garbage boxes or for removing a large sum of cash from the city treasury?

BLOCK WON IN ELEVEN ROUNDS

"Cotton" Dieters's Seconds Threw Up the Sponge.

George Block and "Cotton" Dieters roughed it for 11 rounds before the St. Louis Rowing Club Sunday afternoon. In the cieventh Dieters' seconds threw up the sponge, although he did not seem to be getting very much the worst of it.

All the way through the men wrestled about the ring, shoving one another in re-about the ring, shoving one another in repeated clinches and delivering blows that the spectators considered foul.

Before the sponge went up Dieters had apparently the best of it, but Block suddenly rallied, forcing his appanent into a corner, where he repeatedly landed blows on his head and face.

Dieters had only two blows that seemed effective—to reach Block's face and swinging his right to the ribs. He had Block staggering at one stage of the game, when he landed several times on the long fighter's head. Block went to the floor two or three times and almost stayed the count each time.

er's head. Block went to the noor two or three times and almost stayed the count each time.

In the tenth round Dieters had the best of it and fought fast. He seemed to have Block going. But in the next, which proved to be the last, Block came back at him with swift jabs on the jaw and soon had Dieters clinching to save himself. In the previous round Dieters had fought so fast that he was very tired and Block had him doubled up trying to protect his head with his arms.

After the fight Dieters stated that he did not want the sponge thrown up, and was merely letting Block pound the top of his head while he rested his lungs.

An old injury to Dieters' side was occasion for his seconds stopping the fight, and they said that the injury had been aggravated by blows in the sixth round.

Both men were out of condition and above the welterweight limit.

To Be Opened by May 1 and to Cost $200,000.

pecial to the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Capt. P. J. Car-nody of St. Louis, who is visiting New York for the first time in 47 years, made the statement at the Holland House tothat St. Louis is to have a new race track within seven or eight miles from the track within seven or eight miles from the center of the city, to be opened not later than next May 1, and to cost about $200,000.

Mr. Carmody declarer that he is not here to further the interests of the Gates-Drake combine. It was suggested to him that John W. Gates and Mr. Drake would back the new course, but he said St. Louis would furnish the capital.

"What we want at St. Louis," said Capt. Carmondy, "is a first-class track, with clean sport, close to the city. Kinloch is too far out. The transportation facilities are inadequate, the water is not of the best, and people don't care to travel 17 miles to get there. We made a profit of $7000 on this year's meet of 15 days, which is not bad, considering that $27,500 was lost last season.

Defeated by Boston, 6 to 2, They Go to Third Place.

McAleer's pennant chasing Blownlegs bade farewell to something besides the 15,000 of their friends who assembled at Sportsman's Park yesterday afternoon to see them do battle with the Boston American League aggregation.

They bade farewell to second place in the mad race for the bunting, and there were many of their followers, who, after witnessing their favorites trailed in the dust who thought that the the second were many of their followers, who, after witnessing their favorites trailed in the dust, who thought that the 1902 crop of Brownies bade eternal farwell to this year's flag.

When yesterday's game was over, Red Jonathan Powell was another shattered idol. Powell had triumphed over other aggregations with so much ease and grace that his legion admirers thought that there was no such thing as fall. Each game that John has appeared in since the Browns returned from that disastrous eastern trip was a triumph, and the faithful had forgotten all about that hot day in August with the music of the waves of Boston Bay drumming in his ears. Red John had faced the Beaneaters, and in one fateful inning they pounded his slants for a total of eight runs and drove him from the rubber.

Powell possessed all of his speed and curves yesterday, as usual, and his drop ball was a beauty. But they had no terrors for the Hubbies, who drove out il safe hits, most of which were of the extra base species, and gathered in six tallies, while St. Louis was hitting William Dineen for five puny hits, and gathered in two runs by courtsey of errors of the Boston felders.

Things looked bad for St. Louis from the start. Powell was lucky indeed that only one run came in in the first inning. Doughnerty counted, Freeman sacrificed to Anderson. With one out, and runners on second and third, it looked bad. Gleason popped up a foul fly. Kahee and Anderson started for it. It was Anderson's ball and the big first-sacker announced he had it. But Kahee persisted and as the ball fell in Anderson's glove Kahee collided with him and knocked the thall from his hand. Powell steadied and astruck Gleason out, and Wallace and Anderson did for Lachance.

St. Louis would have tied the score had not Mr. Burkett become too gay. Jess was allowed a two-base hit because Dougherty misjudged his fly. With none out Burkett attempted to stead third and was caught. A moment later Hemphill singled, and Burkett could have counted had he not been shelved on his own indiscretion.

Ferris drove one of Powell's slants into the left bleachers in the second, and Boston scored no more runs until after St. Louis had tied the score in the second. Anderson was presented with a basket of balls as a starter. Lachance did a jugging specialty on Wallace's grounder. McCormick hit to right for a base. Wallace was caught in a run-up. Friel field to Freeman and Anderson counted. McCormick started for third and Freeman relayed the ball to Ferris. Ferris tried to catch McCormick and the ball went wide McCormick scoring. Kahoe filed out tachance and fils ended the Browns' chances of scoring.

attiste now heads the list of winning keys at Delmar, having displaced Jockey lish during the past week. In the last six sets at the second assistant engineer of the transport Lawton, all that is needed is adequate legislation regulating land and mineral claims to make of the Island of Mindanae a rich field for the gold prospector, the coal miner and the producer of India rubber and gutta percha.

Already, according to Wilson, who has spent a long time in the interior of the big island, there are many Americans prospecting and preparing to develop the long latent possibilities of the new possession. Being by profession a marine engineer, is much more enthusiastic over the gold. He claims that the coal found there, some specimens of which he brought back with him, is superior to the Japanese coal.

THE FEDERAL INVESTMENT COMP'Y,

GRAIN MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH Chicago, Sept. 8.—Weakness prevailed again to-day during the early hours of trading on the Board of Trade. Weather conditions had much to do with the breaks. Wheat started a trifle firmer on a little buying by one of the big houses and on Washington predictions of frost in the Northwest tonight. The predictions were almost ignored, however, and flips followed on the dry weather for the spring movement. Cables were weak, but grading and receipts were still slightly bullish. September wheat started he down to he up at 71½c to 71½c, and slumped to 70½c. December opened 1460½c to a shade higher at 6c to 67%c and fell off to 67%c. Local receipts were 286 car-his guests a fine view of the magnificent spectacle.

The long, slim yacht threw a tremendous swell, but in front she cut the water like a knife. Enveloped in a cloud of steam from the safety valve she swept across the finish line like a white flash. All of the watches agreed on the time.

The Arrow was built at the Nyack yards of Samuel Ayres & Son, and the contract speed was set at 48.25 miles.

There are two sets of Mosher quadruple expansion engines, and when at the highest speed the shafts will turn at the rate of more than 600 times every minute. The piston stroke is 15 inches, and the diameter of the cylinders are 11, 17, 24 and 32 inches. The six powerful ejectors have a capacity of 100 tons of water an hour.

RIVER COMES FROM NOBLE FAMILY MUST WIN THREE OUT OF FOUR

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 8.-Minus the services and person of Pitcher Charles Harvices and person of Pitcher Charles Harper, the Browns, 35 strong, arrived here this morning for the first game of what is expected to prove an important series in the pennant race in the American League.

Harper's failure to accompany the club is due to a sore shoulder, according to Mr. McAleer. Those intimate with Harper say it is other than a physical soreness that bothers him. It is hinted by a member of the Browns that Harper may not be with the team next year. An agent of the Cincinnati Reds, J. Ed Grillo, who has been in St. Louis for a coupie of days, had a conference with Harper yesterday and is said to have made "Jack" an offer to go with the National League Reds next

BAND AND ONE TO CORONER.

Mrs. E. P. Johnson, wife of E. P. Johnthe Clayton fail, the county authorities son of 5711 Bartmer avenue, ended her life sunday night with morphine.

She was alone when she died. Her body the suburbs.

think they have the lone highwayman who has been operating successfully of late in the suburbs.

Beal says he is not a highwayman. He declares that he arrived in St. Louis from Alabama only a week ago and since then has been at work for a World's Fair grading contractor.

Emil Malitiz, manager of a Midway attraction at Delmar Garden, is responsible for Beal's capture. He, accompanied by Mrs. Malitiz, met Beal on his way home shortly after midnight Sunday morning.

According to Malitiz, Beal placed a revolver to his head and demanded money.

Instead of 'producing,' Malitiz snatched the revolver and clubbed Beal into submission. Then he turned him over to two deputy sheriffs.

Beal is 5 feet 5 inches tall and weighs about 130 pounds. This description fits the highwayman who has been operating in the county.

This highwayman has made a practice of selecting for his victims young men accompanied by young women. He has managed at the point of his revolver to get money from couples at Meramec Highlands, Creve Coeur Lake, Kirkwood and Webster Groves.

His most noted exploit was in halting Richard Ghiselin of Webster Groves while walking with Miss Blackmer, a society belle of that suburb, and relieving him of a small sum of money.

Sunday night with morphine.

She was alone when she died. Her body was found shortly before midnight by erh husband.

Two letters explaining the cause of her act were left by her—one for her husband and one for the coroner.

Mrs. Johnson was 55 years old. Besides her husband, she leaves three step-children whom she reared from Infancy. Her funeral will be held Tuesday at Kalamasoo, Mich.

She was active in public charities, being one of the principal members of the Children's playground committee of the Golden Chain Humane Society. She was also a member of the Missouri Equal Suffrage Association.

CHOLERA IN PHILIPPINES. Army Says Only a Bountiful Rain Can Stop It.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—"A bountiful downpour of rain is the only remedy which will check the cholera epidemic now raging in the Philippines," said Capt. E. H. Southall, a surgeon in the United States army, who arrived here on the transport Buford. who arrived here on the transport Buford.
Capt. Southall was for a time in charge of the cholera hospital in Manila. In speaking of the epidemic, he said:
"The Americans in the Philippines seem unable to cope with the cholera plague.
Despite the rigorous methods used to suppress it, the disease seems to spread and increase. When I left Manila, the death rate was 90 a day. An equal number were stricken with the disease. Of course there were a number of pueblos in the interior from which we never heard and in those places the death rate was said to be enormous. It is very difficult to get correct figures of the mortality due to cholera because of the fact that he sailves hide the dead and try to see the knowledge of

Mercury and Potash ONLY SERVE AS A MASK FOR

CONTAGIOUS BLOOD POISON They hide its repulsive form, and this serpent disease, stupefied by these drugs, lies dormant until the effects have worn off or treatment is discontinued, when it breaks down the mask and becomes as full of life and venom as ever. Mercury and Potash may dry up the sores and eruptions, but at the same time they drive the poison back into the blood and system, where it feeds upon the tender tissues, membranes and nerves, finally breaking out in most disgusting sores and even destroying the flesh and bones.

Mercury and Potash cannot accomplish a radical and permanent cure.

They have a palliative but not curative effect upon this treacherous snakelike disease. These drugs produce mercurial Rheumatism, destroy the teeth and corrode the membranes of the stomach and bowels, causing inflammation and dyspepsia, nervousness and general derangement of the system.

S. S. S. is a Specific for Contagious Blood Poison, and the only antidote for the peculiar virus that spreads so quickly throughout the system, corrupting the blood and infecting every organ and fibre of the body.

S. S. S. destroys the serpent, and eliminates every atom of poison from the blood, it makes a thorough and radical cure of the disease, and at the same time builds up the general health. S. S. Aug. 3, declares that the money has cursed his life.

The money was Mrs. Inkamp's buried savings. Mueller kept the coin in his secret for over a month, a long period of torture in which his conscience denied him rest or sleep.

He was glad, he declares, when the police came Saturday and took him to a cell in the dungeons of the Four Courts. There on a plank Miller found the sleep, which nature had refused to allow him on the luxurious bed he had purchased with his borrowed treasure.

"Riches, the thing I have desired all my life, became the curse of my life when I realized my dream. I was a day laborer, with never a hope of getting a hundred dolllars ahead, when my pick struck the tin box Mrs. Inkamp had buried. The lid came off and there in a glittering, dazzling heap, the gold lay blinking at me. A treasure at last. I became weak. The fascination of gold undermined my legs and my honor.

Robber Himself, He Feared Robbers.

"I carried the money home and counted to have a mouth of suffering that she was relieved. During the ordeal she almost died, and is still in a serious condition.

"This fear tormented me as much as the fear of detection. My brain was confused. I could not think, nor reason. I could not sleep. The back of my head near the neck seemed to be drawn taut, as though strained to the bursting.

"From Aug. 3 to last Saturday, when I was arrested, I never secured a night's rest. What sleep I obtained was only a fitful doze, broken continually by the fear that my gold would be stolen.

"I am glad that my act has been discovered. Glad that the burden of care and guilt is off my mind."
